Welcome to the 114th Annual Meeting

What a year we have had, a year full of “firsts” for the Texas State Historical Association, and now it is time for all of us to make plans to gather in Dallas for the 2010 Annual Meeting held at the Marriott Quorum Hotel. During the year we celebrated the one-year anniversary of our move to and affiliation with the University of North Texas in Denton, doubled our membership, and brought out the first Texas Almanac published by the Association. We also undertook numerous major fund raising efforts, including an ongoing annual campaign and successful applications to several foundations. Catch up on all of the year’s activities and also explore the Texas past and what it means in our time in the sessions and special events planned for this year’s meeting.

This year’s forty-one sessions offer attendees the opportunity to engage in the study of the past with leading authorities in Spanish Colonial and Mexican Borderlands, Texas Revolution, Texas Republic, War with Mexico, Civil War, military history, Gilded Age-Progressive Era, Téjano and Mexican American History, industrial history and ranching, museums and material culture, women in Texas History, oral history, Civil Rights and African American History, Texas politics, and the twentieth century. Joint sessions with the Texas Oral History Association, the Texas Folklore Society, the Society of Southwest Archivists, the Texas Catholic History Society, the Texas Baptist Historical Society, and the Texas Supreme Court Historical Society are also planned.

Special events begin at noon on Thursday, March 4, with the Women in Texas History Luncheon, where Angela Boswell will speak on “Texas Women, a History without Borders: From Midland Minnie to the National Women’s Conference,” and the Liz Carpenter Award will be presented. On Thursday evening, the Presidential Reception in the Pecan Room at Old Parkland will welcome incoming TSHA President Dianne Powell.

Friday, March 5, begins with the Book Lovers’ and Texana Collectors’ Breakfast featuring Darwin Payne’s discussion of his book Quest for Justice: Louis A. Bedford Jr. and the Struggle for Equal Rights in Texas. At noon, the Fellows Luncheon and Presentation of Awards will recognize accomplishments in Texas History research.

This year, we will revive the famous Live Auction with J. P. Bryan reprising his role of auctioneer in the late afternoon on Friday. Afterwards, we will gather for the Presidential Banquet where I will address the topic of The TSHA and the Future of the Past.

As in previous years, workshops for the Handbook of Texas and the Quarterly and publications workshop, the business meeting, and the Walter Prescott Webb Society Annual Meeting will also be held.

Throughout the meeting you can place bids in the Silent Auction, which includes private tours, rare books, maps, and unique objects. Publications by some of the region’s leading publishers of history and from rare book dealers will be for sale in the exhibit hall.

Special thanks go to the Program Committee that put together an entertaining and enlightening program: Chair Kenneth Hafertepe, with committee members Jerry Thompson, Steve Hardin, Richard Lowe, John Miller Morris, Andrés Tijerina, T. Lindsey Baker, Lynn Denton, Stephanie Cole, Alex Pratt, and Tai Kreidler. As always, this program would not be possible without the tremendous effort they put forth. Please note the generous contributions to the annual meeting by our sponsors, whose names are listed on the preceding page. Once again our TSHA staff has done an outstanding job both over the course of the year and in putting together this meeting. When you see them please take the time to thank them.

May you enjoy the meeting and come away with a renewed commitment to the study of Texas history.

Texas Speaks

Keith J. Volanto

Texas Voices: Documents & Biographical Sketches is a series of primary documents and biographies designed to help awaken in the students of Texas History an interest in the past by expanding the course material.

Selections cover earlier periods of Texas History such as Exploration, the Spanish Era, Mexican Texas, the Texas Revolution, the Texas Republic, the Civil War, and Reconstruction, but also provide a wealth of information on twentieth-century Texas topics including the Progressive Era, the 1920s, the Great Depression, World War II, the Civil Rights Movement, and Modern Texas Politics, Economics, and Culture. The reader can supplement any Texas History text, including Beyond Myths & Legends: A Narrative History of Texas, published by Abigail Press.

For a review copy e-mail phyllis@abigailpress.com.

True Texas

Kenneth W. Howell • Keith J. Volanto • James M. Smallwood
Charles D. Grear • Jennifer S. Lawrence

Moving beyond the myths and legends that cloud our understanding of the past, this textbook presents a straight-forward narrative history of Texas from the prehistoric era to the present. All of the authors have synthesized the most recent scholarship with new primary research. Their focus primarily rests on the cultural, social, and political history of the state, while including a healthy dose of economic and military history. Texas Voices: Documents & Biographical Sketches, written and edited by Keith Volanto, is now available to supplement the text.

The DeGolyer Library is the principal repository at SMU for special collections in the humanities, the history of business, and the history of science and technology. The Library has numerous strengths, especially the history of the American West and railroads. DeGolyer Library's holdings of primary sources are supported by exhibitions, lectures, publications, and classes.

The Lawrence T. Jones III Texas Photography Collection: DeGolyer Library is pleased to announce the acquisition of the Jones Collection, one of the most comprehensive and valuable Texas-related photography collections in the country. With well over 5,000 images, it documents all aspects of early Texas photography. The photographs provide a unique glimpse into social and domestic history, architecture, transportation, ranching, agriculture, commerce, material culture, costume, and urban and rural history. A detailed inventory of the Jones Collection is available online, and selected images have been digitized. See: http://digitalcollections.smu.edu/all/cul/jtx/

Fellowships: To encourage graduate students and post-docs to use materials in its collections, DeGolyer Library has several fellowship programs. Ruth Morgan Fellowships are available to scholars interested in women's history. Clements Center/DeGolyer Fellowships are available to researchers interested in southwestern or borderlands topics. Stipends vary ($300-$1500) and are intended to offset some of the expenses of travel and lodging. For more information, please contact the Library.

Publications: DeGolyer Library maintains an active publication program in its fields of interest. Recent notable titles include The Horton Foote Review, a journal devoted to the life and work of the Texas playwright (whose archive is at the DeGolyer), and Tom Taylor's Alone in the Vault: An Introduction to the Bibliophilic Mysteries. For these and other titles, please visit our booth at the TSHA or contact us directly.

The Library of Texas is a special series, published in conjunction with the Clements Center, of scholarly editions of classic works in Texas history. The most recent title is Melinda Rankin, Twenty Years Among the Mexicans, edited by Miguel Ángel González-Quiroga and Timothy Bowman (2008).

The Book Club of Texas was founded originally by Stanley Marcus in 1929. Now housed at the DeGolyer Library, it welcomes all Texas book lovers to join and to support its activities. Recent publications include Paula Mitchell Marks, ed. When Will the Weary War Be Over? The Civil War Letters of the Maverick Family of San Antonio (2008) and Thomas H. Kreneck and Gerald D. Saxon, eds. Collecting Texas: Essays on Texana Collectors and the Creation of Research Libraries (2009). For information, please visit our booth at the TSHA or contact us directly.

Take a trip across the Lone Star State with the Texas Almanac 2010–2011. Filled with hundreds of color maps and photographs from every corner of the great state, the Texas Almanac is the ultimate resource on all things Texan. Now published by the Texas State Historical Association, the 65th edition contains up-to-date information and articles on every facet of life in Texas.

Special features in this edition include:

- An article on Lady Bird Johnson by biographer Jan Jarboe Russell that looks at her East Texas childhood and how nature influenced her work as First Lady.
- A history of Scandinavians in Texas, where they came from, where they settled and their unique contributions to Texas.
- An in-depth look at the many ways Texans carve up the state into regions, from the Panhandle to the Valley and the Piney Woods to the Hill Country.
- Historical lists of high school football and basketball champions.

The Texas Almanac also includes a history of Texas, as well as sections on government, population, the environment, recreation, business, oil, agriculture, health, education, culture, obituaries of notable Texans and a pronunciation guide to town and county names.

Announcing the new:

Hispanic Heritage Center of Texas

“Legacy, Culture, History”

Mission:
Upon completion, the mission of the center will be to champion the true lives and legacies of Tejanos and their accomplishments, including contributions to the history of the Lone Star state! The center will also bring awareness, educate, elevate and celebrate the Hispanic experience in Texas. Interim offices to be open in early 2010.

Programs:
The center will consist of a world-class research library, museum, archival space, multi-media center and an exciting “Tejano Heritage Living Village”.

International:
Participation from the governments of Mexico and Spain will be sought after to complete mutual Texas historical and cultural ties.

To Help Us:
For more information or to make a contribution, please visit us at www.HispanicHeritageCenterofTexas.org or call us at (210) 892-0136.

An unsurpassed visual exploration

$39.95 HARDCOVER · 9 X 12 · 240 COLOR MAPS, TABLES, AND PHOTOS · 448 PAGES

For twenty years the Historical Atlas of Texas stood as a trusted resource. Thoroughly updated and expanded—and even rechristened, Texas: A Historical Atlas now more accurately reflects the Lone Star State at the dawn of the twenty-first century. Its 86 entries feature 175 full color maps and illustrate the most significant aspects of the state’s history, geography, and current affairs.

The heart of the book is its wealth of historical information. Sections on indigenous peoples, exploration, and settlement offer visual depictions of everything from the routes of explorers to cattle trails, hurricanes and highways, power plants and population trends.

A. Ray Stephens is retired as Professor of History at the University of North Texas, Denton, and Director of the Texas History Institute. He is coauthor (with William M. Holmes) of the Historical Atlas of Texas.
The Center for Texas Studies at TCU and TCU Press announce the Texas Biography Series to encourage modern, scholarly biographies of notable Texas figures. While such high profile Texans as Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin have received recent and thorough study, many important Texans have not received the attention their lives or contributions merit. While intended to be scholarly, the books are written to be accessible to the general public with an interest in Texas history.
