Newsletter of the Junior Historians of Texas

Texas State Historical Association, 1155 Union Circle #311580, Denton, Texas 76203

An Educational Program of the Texas State Historical Association in cooperation with the University of North Texas

September 2010

WELCOME BACK!

All of us at TSHA hope that our Junior Historian students and sponsors had a restful and relaxing summer! We kept quite busy in the summer months, travelling to College Park, Maryland for National History Day, spending nearly two weeks travelling the country for our Old Stories New Voices summer camp, driving across the state talking to teachers and administrators at curriculum days, and working tirelessly to encourage more schools to participate in Junior Historians. We received a lot of positive feedback from these conferences, and hope to see many new and revived chapters this fall.

We are knee-deep into planning this year's 72nd Annual Meeting in Houston, April 1-2, 2011. Last year's event was a great success and we were thrilled to see so many chapters attending. We hope for similar success this year. Additionally, we are in the final stages of editing and production of the next issue of the Texas Historian, featuring papers from our Junior Historians and Texas History Day students. This issue promises to be excellent, with articles featuring both local and international heroes: from Scott Joplin to Theodore Roosevelt. As soon as the volume is back from the publisher, we'll send it out to all new and renewing chapters and at-large members.

September is also a great time to start thinking about your entry for this year's JH History Fair. Especially for those students who are considering the paper category, we have a variety of awards available, including the Thomas Ricks Lindley Memorial Award. The Lindley Award recognizes students who write on Texas History Topics from 1821 to 1886. Additionally, the Lone Star Leadership Award will be offered again for elementary and junior division entries. This award provides a scholarship to the Lone Star Leadership Academy, sponsored by Education in Action. A full description of the writing awards may be found online at http://www.tshaonline.org/education/jh/writing\_awards.html.

We would also like to take a moment to encourage students to take a look at all of the education programs that the Texas State Historical Association has to offer. If you are a game-show fanatic and enjoy rapid-fire question and answer, get your school or chapter involved in the Texas Quiz Show. Heading off to a Texas college next year? See if that institution has a Webb Society Chapter; if not, think about the possibility of starting one. And of course, we encourage all students to participate in Texas History Day; this year's theme is "Debate and Diplomacy in History: Successes, Failures, Consequences." More information on our education programs is found online at <http://www.tshaonline.org/education/>.

Finally, TSHA is proud to announce the launch of our student facebook page, Hitch on to Texas History! We will use this space to post updates and announcements for all of our student programs, including Junior Historians, Texas History Day and the Texas Quiz Show. Log on and "like" our page to start getting announcements and updates straight to your news feed.

Have a great school year, and we look forward to seeing you all in Houston this April.

CHAPTER RENEWALS

Make sure you are an ACTIVE CHAPTER in 2010-2011. Chapter renewal forms are enclosed for your convenience. They were also distributed electronically to chapter sponsors. Please return them as quickly as possible.

SUMMERLEE FOUNDATION GRANT

At this time, the Summerlee Foundation grant is nearly exhausted, but some funds remain for 2010-2011. All chapters will still receive their five complimentary subscriptions to the Texas Historian, but other benefits such as complimentary registrations and field trip reimbursements are on hold pending additional funding.

TEXAS HISTORIAN SUBSCRIPTIONS

The Texas Historian is in the final stages of editing and will be heading off to the printer shortly. As soon as we have the publication back from our printers we will ship it out to you. We strongly encourage all members to have their own copy of the publication. The Texas Historian serves to educate students about history, and to provide them with well researched and well written historical essays by their peers.

THE 2011 JUNIOR HISTORIANS ANNUAL MEETING AND HISTORY FAIR

The 72nd Junior Historians Annual Meeting and History Fair will be held April 1-2, 2011 at the Marriott Sugar Land Town Square Hotel in Houston. Please join other chapter members and sponsors as they come together to share their achievements, challenges, and future plans. Meeting activities will take place at the Marriott Hotel and at surrounding historic sites. Details about the meeting and registration will follow in future issues of THE ROADRUNNER. For budgetary purposes, chapters should plan for $24.75 plus tax per person for overnight lodging and a $25.00 conference registration fee that includes an awards luncheon.

JUNIOR HISTORIANS CATEGORIES OF COMPETITION

An important way for students to become involved in the Junior Historian experience is by participating in the annual meeting contests. Medals and certificates are awarded to the top four entries in each category listed below in the elementary (4-5), junior (6-8), and senior (9-12) divisions. Medalists in the historical paper and exhibit categories also receive monetary prizes, and some papers are selected for publication in the Texas Historian. For historical paper rules, refer to the Junior Historians Writing Contests section on page 4 of this newsletter. Contest rules for each category are also available in the Junior Historian Sponsors' Handbook at <http://www.tshaonline.org/education/jh/sponsors/index.html>.

CHAPTER ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS

These awards, based on the chapter reports submitted by sponsors, represent group efforts in researching, discovering, and preserving our Texas heritage. Chapter trophies are given in the elementary, junior, and senior divisions.

- Chapter Project*
- Outstanding Chapter
- First Runner-Up
- Second Runner-Up
- Honor Trophies
- Outstanding First Year Chapter

*Chapter Projects should conform to the guidelines for documentaries, exhibits, performances, or web sites. The JH Web site category will follow the same guidelines as the National History Day Web site category. For more instructions, please visit <http://nhd.org/CategoryWebsite.htm>. Those chapters considering a chapter performance should be prepared to perform once for the judges and again, if possible, during the awards luncheon.

ADOPT-A-BUILDING AWARDS

Since 1985 Junior Historian chapters have had an opportunity to participate in the Adopt-A-Building preservation program, adopting a building or a landmark in their communities that has not been previously researched. Through media presentations, displays, and outreach programs, Junior Historians share information about their site's architectural and social history. In the process students often develop a new interest in the role that buildings play in the history of their communities and help increase public awareness of the need for historic preservation. The Junior Historian Sponsors' Handbook outlines the four phases of the Adopt-A-Building program. Chapters that complete all four phases of the adoption process are recognized at the Junior Historians Annual Meeting and receive a plaque commemorating their adoption.

CHAPTER OPPORTUNITIES

The following list is offered to provide your chapter new outlets for exploring history this year.

- Beyond the Bytes Newsletter
This informative quarterly newsletter brings you up-to-date information about new and exciting resources that can be found on the Portal to Texas History web site, sponsored by the University of North Texas in Denton. The Portal to Texas History offers students a digital gateway to the rich collections held in Texas libraries, museums, archives, historical societies, and private collections. Check out their new projects such as the Texas Digital Newspaper Program and the "A to Z Digitization Project," which intends to provide access to a minimum of 500 additional documents every year. To take advantage of this valuable resource or subscribe to the newsletter, visit <http://texashistory.unt.edu/about/?selection=News>.
- Genealogy Projects
Genealogy is an increasingly popular passion for many as access to historical information and data become more readily available. This type of research is a rewarding experience and can be a thrilling exercise. Often, researching one branch of your family will inspire you to delve into other topics that will enhance your historical research and writing skills. For a step-by-step list of how to get started, visit: <http://www.pbs.org/opb/historydetectives/diy/genealogy.html>. Other helpful web sites are: http://www.rootsweb.ancestry.com/~txgenweb/?cj=1&o\_xid=0002530104&o\_lid=0002530104, and a complete list of free Texas Genealogy links are found at: <http://www.accessgenealogy.com/texas/>.
- The Texas History Day T-Shirt Design Contest invites students to submit t-shirt designs that depict the 2011 Texas History Day theme, "Debate & Diplomacy in History: Successes, Failures, Consequences." The winning student's design will be featured on the Texas History Day 2011 t-shirts and sold at the state contest on May 6-7, 2011. The winning design, student name, school, and teacher will be posted on the Texas History Day web site. In addition, the winner receives a free t-shirt and $50! See the enclosed flyer for details.

JUNIOR HISTORIANS WRITING CONTESTS

For nearly seventy years, countless young Texans have participated in the Junior Historians writing contests, writing the history of Texas from the perspective of their home communities. Many students' papers have been published in the Texas Historian. Participants are encouraged to research topics on state and local history so they can have the experience of using many different primary sources.

The following rules apply to all Junior Historians Writing Contests:

1. The deadline for historical papers is February 28, 2011. Please submit FOUR copies of your paper.
2. Entries must be written on a word processor and double-spaced, with each page numbered. Include the writer's name, school, home address, and telephone number on the cover page only.
3. The writer must document the paper by using endnotes that follow either A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, & Dissertations by Kate Turabian or the style guidebook of the Modern Language Association (MLA). Citations cannot appear in parentheses within the body of the paper.
4. Entrants must avoid plagiarism. Quotations from other writers are encouraged but should be used with discretion. Frequently, a well-chosen quote can add interest, color, and authority to a paper. However, when a student uses a direct quote—as opposed to paraphrasing the words of another writer—the words must be enclosed in quotation marks. A paper failing to meet this requirement will be disqualified.
5. Each entry will be judged on the basis of its organization, originality of the topic, writing style, documentation, and total content of the paper.
6. Contest papers published in the Texas Historian become the property of the Texas State Historical Association and are not returned to the author. Other papers and all photographs will be returned only if a written request is provided by the chapter sponsor and accompanied with return postage.
7. The contest is open to any student who is under twenty-one years of age and is a member of a Junior Historians chapter, or who is a member-at-large. The member-at-large category is for students who are not members of a Junior Historians chapter and who wish to enter papers in the writing contests. A regular subscription ($7) to the Texas Historian is the only requirement for the member-at-large standing.

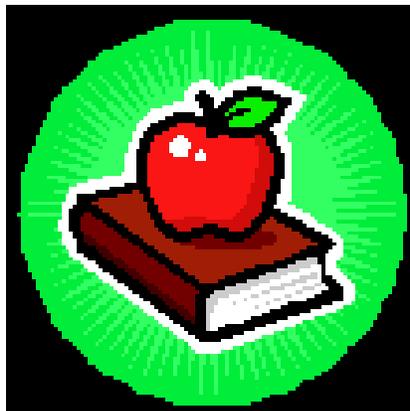

Students should avoid, whenever possible, relying too heavily upon books and magazine articles written on their topic. Using local primary materials is one of the major objectives of the Junior Historians. However, students who do not have access to primary materials should not be discouraged from entering the contest. Many excellent papers are based on secondary sources.

Photographs, maps, or illustrations should accompany each paper. It is often difficult for the Texas Historian staff to locate images to illustrate an article on local history being considered for publication. Students should therefore submit visual materials to illustrate their papers. Black and white glossy prints are preferable, but color prints of good quality are acceptable. Student authors may submit copies of illustrations from books or pamphlets only with the written permission of the publisher. Copies of illustrations are acceptable, providing the originals are available to the Texas Historian staff, if requested.

THE LEADERSHIP IN EDUCATION AWARD

In Honor of an Outstanding History Teacher at the Middle School, High School, or College Level

The Mary Jon and J.P. Bryan Leadership in Education Award is given annually to recognize an outstanding history teacher or professor in Texas. Middle school, high school, and college teachers are eligible for the award. The winning teacher for 2010 will be presented a certificate and a check for $5,000 at the Association's Annual Meeting in March 2011.

Any individual may nominate a full-time teacher or professor presently teaching history in a Texas school or college. Letters of nomination sent to the award committee must be postmarked on or before December 6, 2010. Supporting details may include the nominee's resume or vita, a list of activities and accomplishments, awards or honors, publications, descriptions of programs the nominee has created, and other materials. The letter and supporting details cannot exceed seven pages.

Should the committee decide that no entry meets the requirements, they may withhold the award at their discretion.

Please submit your nomination and supporting materials to:

Chairman
Mary Jon and J. P. Bryan Leadership in Education Award
Texas State Historical Association
1155 Union Circle #311580
Denton, TX 76203-5017

FALL EVENTS OF INTEREST

Texas Council for the Social Studies 58th Annual Conference

This year's Texas Council for the Social Studies conference will be October 15-17 in Houston. Sessions will be held at the Hilton Houston North and will feature excellent speakers, TEKS review for all grade levels and the Jean Lantz Awards Luncheon. Don't forget to visit the TSHA exhibit table and meet our staff. For more conference information, and an updated list of speakers and presentations, visit www.txcss.org.

Texas Book Festival

The annual Texas Book Festival will take place at the State Capitol on October 16-17, and this year's event proves to have something for everyone. Mark your calendar and plan to attend the panel discussions, readings and book signings by featured authors. The children's booths will have a myriad of book-related activities to take straight to your classroom. Proceeds from the sale of books and merchandise benefit Texas public libraries. To learn more, visit www.texasbookfestival.org

Mark your calendars for the inaugural Save Texas History Symposium in Austin, Texas on Saturday, November 6. The topic of the symposium will be "Discovering Spanish and Mexican Texas." The Save Texas History Symposium will be hosted by Commissioner Jerry Patterson and the Texas General Land Office. The symposium will be held at 1700 North Congress Avenue in Austin, Texas between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. To register, call 1-800-998-4GLO or email: archives@glo.state.tx.us
